Where possible, the reserve team may be encouraged by the WPA and should endeavour to include the remaining player(s) from the initially qualified team.

Competition Rules 2023

Part 4

Contract of Representation.

The following Contract provides all players representing their country with the standards of behaviour required to ensure that Wales and the Welsh Pétanque Association (WPA) are highly regarded by the competing nations and the organisers of competitions and the associated activities.

This Code is to be taken seriously but is not intended to prevent you from having an exciting and enjoyable competition. You are there to produce the best possible results for Wales and the WPA, which should in itself provide you with the interest and stimulation required.

As players and officials, you represent your country, which is a significant honour and consequently, you are in the spotlight. Your good performance and conduct will provide a role model for less experienced players. However, the potential to harm the game is considerable if you do not demonstrate the skill, sportsmanship and conduct that is expected, which helped you achieve your place in the team.

You are a recognised member of the Welsh team from the moment that the group meets until it disperses after the competition. Professional conduct is expected and will be maintained at all times.

1. TIMEKEEPING.

It is your responsibility to ensure that you report on time on any occasion when stipulated. Any time notified should be considered as the latest time of reporting. Lateness is not acceptable as it results in the whole team being delayed. Should you not attend the event for any reason, then you may be liable to reimburse the WPA. This may include refunding travel, accommodation and team kit, and any other reasonable expenses deemed appropriate.

2. DISCIPLINE.

The Head of Delegation and Coach/Team Manager have delegated authority from the WPA to have the final say in all matters relating to the team's conduct. They consequently have the authority to exclude players from all or part of the competition if the Contract of Representation is not observed or take other disciplinary action that may be appropriate at the time or at a later date if evidence of alleged misconduct is later discovered.

3. BEHAVIOUR.

You are expected at all times to show respect and consideration to your team members and Welsh officials and supporters, the Competition Organisers, all other players, and all spectators. You are clearly expected to observe all the sport's rules and the competition or tournament, including proper attendance at an opening or closing ceremonies. By any action or comment, you are not to do anything that could bring the WPA into disrepute. Any inappropriate behaviour may result in your exclusion from representing the WPA in the future.

Competition Rules 2023

4. ALCOHOL. [See Supplementary Note 1]

Alcohol does not assist long-term performance and should be restricted to moderate drinking when accompanied by food. In all representative competitions, consumption of alcohol during the event by Welsh team participants is forbidden during play.

Strict alcohol limits are set for the European and World Championships and enforced by random testing.

5. DRUGS.

The taking of any illegal drugs whatsoever is banned. For any player who has taken medication in the 3 months before the event, including non-prescription medicines, the details must be notified to the WPA Medical Advisor in advance. Written evidence from the prescribing doctor must be provided.

A full list of currently prohibited drugs can be downloaded from the following website. Your Coach/Team Manager will also have a copy.

WADA's Prohibited List – published 01/01/23

6. SLEEP.

It is essential to maintain the concentration and mental awareness required by our sport over a long duration; therefore, a good night's sleep is needed before each day's play.

7. TEAM STRIP.

Where required, you will be provided with Team Strip to be worn at all stages of the competition and at prescribed events.
